

Events Organisers Community of Practice

The UQ Event Organisers Community of Practice is a collaborative network for staff across the university who are involved in planning and delivering events—whether it's your core role or just one of many hats you wear.

Through quarterly in-person gatherings and ongoing engagement via our Teams channel, we share knowledge, resources, news and practical insights to uplift the professionalism and impact of events at UQ.

Our community fosters connection, continuous learning, and a culture of excellence in event delivery.
